

angle of just solving a problem instead of trying to chase somebody. And I'd ask you to support the resolution and if you did happen to do that, then anybody that wanted to be involved, to get you involved and, yeah, probably any solutions, if they were going to be worked out, if anything could be worked out would be done more in the club room than the courtroom and so on and so forth and I think that's the only way you'll ever get anything practical done on this. I'd ask you to vote for it.

PRESIDENT: Amendment on the desk.

CLERK: Mr. President, Senator Wesely would move to amend the resolution. (Wesely amendment appears on page 2449 of the Legislative Journal.)

PRESIDENT: Senator Wesely.

SENATOR WESELY: Thank you. Real briefly, on the third paragraph of Whereas it gets into the question about legal liabilities and claims and stuff and makes some statements. I think what Senator DeCamp wants is a fairly neutral resolution and a call for a study and I can certainly support him with that. I'd just like to take out a couple of sentences, the first couple of sentences in that third paragraph, so I'd ask for that amendment, and I have talked to John and I think he is agreeable to it and we can go forward with the resolution.

PRESIDENT: Senator Harris, do you wish to speak on the amendment?

SENATOR HARRIS: Yes. Mr. President, members of the Legislature, I strongly urge you to adopt this amendment. The resolution is very general in nature. I think that we should approach the subject with an open mind, try to look for the solutions, we shouldn't close any doors in the resolution that we pass today. I am on the Banking Committee. I will look forward to the task of looking into any possibilities of doing something for these depositors. I strongly urge you to adopt the amendment. Thank you.

PRESIDENT: Okay, anybody wish to speak on the amendment? I'll go through my list here. Senator Hall, on the Wesely amendment? Senator Higgins, on the Wesely amendment? Senator Higgins.

SENATOR HIGGINS: Thank you, Mr. President. Senator Wesely, you said you were making an amendment to Section 3 of this
